RALK

FINANCIAL-CRIME COMPLIANCE TRAINING FOR EVERY EMPLOYEE

Every employee trained. Every audit answered.

ralk.io · info@ralk.io

THE PROBLEM

Regulators expect proof that every employee is trained

A legal duty

AML/CFT laws require staff training at regulated firms. Anti-bribery and sanctions laws apply to every company.

Checked in every inspection

Supervisors and auditors ask who was trained, on what, and when. Missing evidence becomes a finding.

Even more important under pressure

Where special conditions apply, for example increased monitoring by the FATF, correspondent banks and partners look even more closely.

TODAY

Classroom training costs more and covers less

Classroom AML course

≈ USD 460 per person

- One-off, 3–5 days away from work
- Usually one topic
- Same content for every role
- Paper attendance list as evidence

RALK licence

USD 45–65 per year

- All year, short modules on any device
- 9 financial-crime modules included
- Adapted to each role, sector and country
- Verifiable certificates and reports

Classroom price: typical 5-day course, RALK partner market estimate

THE SOLUTION

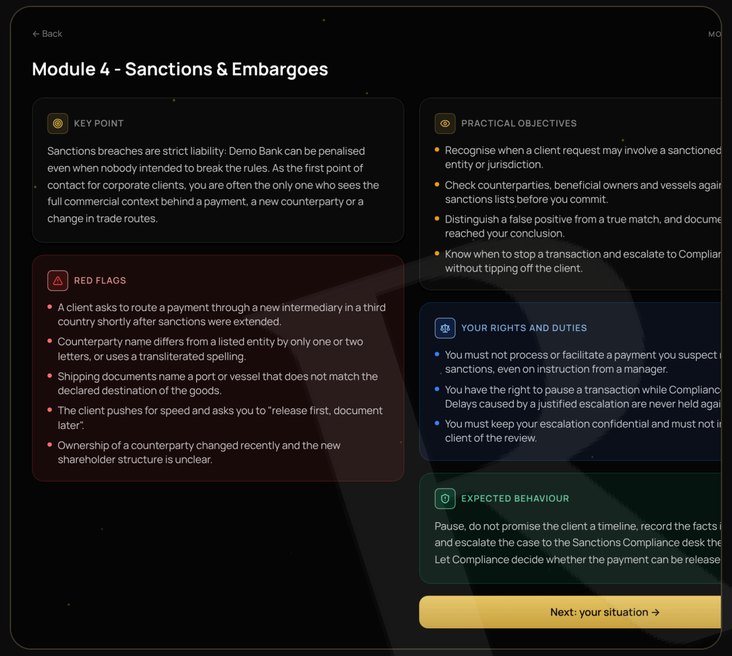

Training that adapts to each employee — and documents itself.

RALK builds role-based modules for every learner, based on FATF standards and local regulation, and records every completion as audit evidence.

WHAT LEARNERS SEE

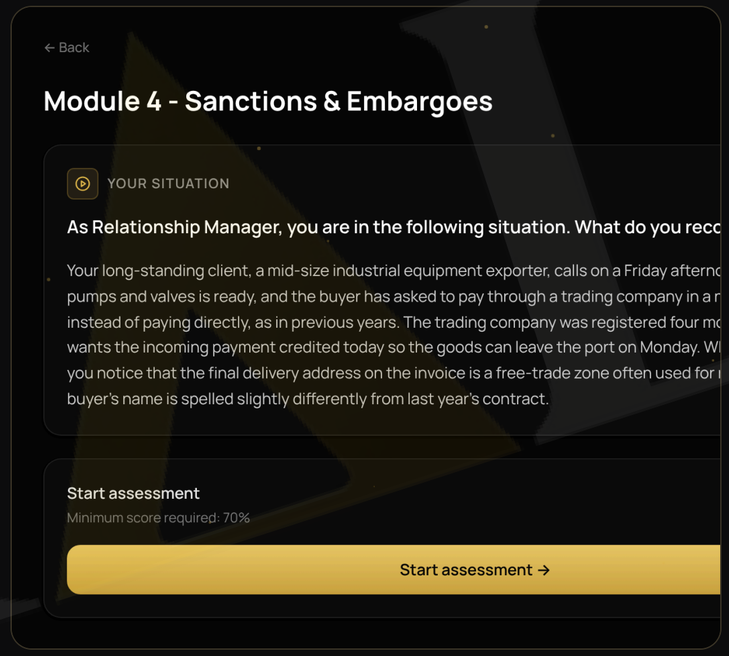

Real cases from their daily work

1 Learn

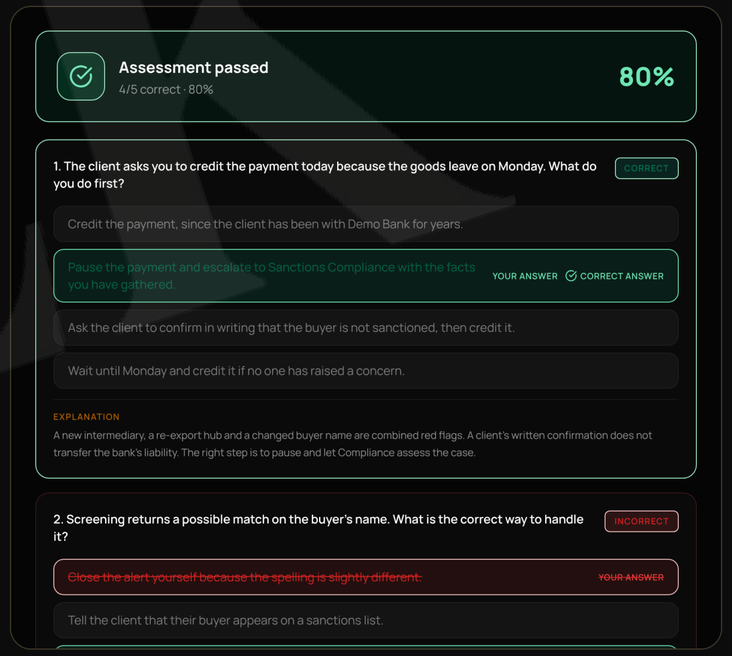

Key point, red flags, rights and duties for their role

2 Apply

A situation from their own job, sector and country

3 Prove

Assessment with explanations, recorded as evidence
